

Welcome four legged-friends!

We are so glad that you and your human have chosen to spend your holidays with us. Good boys and girls are always welcome here!

Please keep muddy paws off the furniture and please don't chew anything except your treats and toys – we don't want you to get a poorly tummy.

A lead of two metres or less is perfect for staying close to your humans and making sure you don't lose them.

Unless you're an assistance dog, you won't be able to help with laundry or washing up as these are human only areas. This also applies to the toilet blocks.

If you fancy a run off the lead then there are lots of places to go adventuring nearby, see over the page for details of a good walk to try.

When you're out and about, please refrain from chasing farm animals (as fun as it might be!). The best way to do this is to ensure your owners keep you on a lead when in a field with animals, this will prevent your instincts getting the better of you. However if cattle or horses decide to chase you, you and your owner will both be much safer if they let go of you. Please remember that it's your owners responsibility to clean up after you wherever you may be (yes, that includes fields and woods).

Please ensure that you always go adventuring with your humans and aren't left alone in the accommodation.

Happy pooching!

Why not share pics of your glamping greyhounds or yurt-shire terriers with other dog-loving guests? Upload on www.experiencefreedom.co.uk/experience and we could feature your furry friend on our website and social pages.

Dog pit stop

The dog pit stops on site are ideal for when a dog has to do his business. Please find their location on the site map provided – don't forget your poo bags! Alternatively, there are some great walks directly from site below.

Dog walk

Taking in beautiful scenery and interesting historic sites along the way, this walk will lead you through Furzefield Wood. Start by leaving site from the reception, and head to the path situated on the left by a red dog bin – this is a national trail so it's well signposted. The route will lead you and your pup past the 10th-century Chaldon Church, which dogs aren't allowed inside but if you can, it's worth popping your head in to see the impressive doom mural, painted by a monk back in 1170. To break up your walk, you will have the choice of two pubs en-route – The Fox Pub or The Harrow, both of which are dog-friendly.

Dog wash

After your walk your poochy pal might need a little hose down. Please find the location of the dog wash on the site map.

Take a picture of this page so you don't lose your way!

This site is a doggy's dream, surrounded by endless rolling countryside to explore. With jaw-dropping views across the Surrey Hills and plenty of nearby dog-friendly attractions, pubs and more, you and your four-legged friend are bound to have a wonderful time here:

National Trust – Box Hill

Either leave your car at the bottom of the hill and climb your way to the top, or for a more leisurely stroll, use the address below to find the car park at the summit. Either way, the panoramic views are sure to take your breath away. Here, the National Trust visitors centre and café are both dog-friendly.
